The Legacy Project

Tell us your story about:

- Your first memories of the parish you grew up in.
- The sacraments that you prepared for and took.
- The school you attended.
- The sisters and priests who taught you and left a lasting impression on you.
- The different church ministries and/or organizations that influenced you.

We capture our stories and share our histories to leave a legacy about our catholic identity and the parishes that influenced and shaped our lives. This legacy that we leave behind is for future generations to learn from and celebrate.

We are looking for anyone who is 70 years and older, to begin with, who is willing to be interviewed. The interview will be recorded via audio and take 1 to 1 ½ hours. These interviews can take place at church, in your home and even over the phone. All interviews will be transcribed and may be available for a future historical program about our parish.

If you are interested in being interviewed, being an interviewer or for more information please contact Joyce Lane, Sharon Binion, Larry Cope, Keisha Chavers, Velma Barker-Hill or Tina Carter.
